The musical score for the 29th measure is divided into two systems. The first system contains the piano and cor parts. The piano part features a melodic line with a slur over the first two measures and a fermata over the last two. The cor part provides harmonic support with a similar phrasing. The second system contains the trombone and bassoon parts. The trombone part has a long note with a slur and a fermata. The bassoon part has a melodic line with a slur and a fermata. The piano part continues with a melodic line that includes a 'Solo' section and a 'Tutti div.' section. The bass part has a melodic line with a slur and a fermata. The score includes dynamic markings such as p and pp, and performance instructions like '+ Cor.', '+ Trom.', 'E, Bass', 'Solo', and 'Tutti div.'.

The image displays a page of musical notation for page 31. It consists of six systems of staves. Each system contains two staves: the upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature is one flat (B-flat). The music features a variety of note values, including quarter, eighth, and sixteenth notes, as well as rests. Long horizontal lines above the notes indicate phrasing slurs. The notation is arranged in a standard score format with a vertical bar line at the end of each system.
